Join the SignWriting® List

SignWriting users around the globe communicate through email.

SignWriting publications are produced all over the world by Deaf students, teachers, parents and researchers. If you would like to communicate with others who use SignWriting, join the SignWriting Email List. It is a list of 200 teachers, researchers and Deaf people from 30 countries. List members ask technical questions, and receive lessons in SignWriting through email. It is free! To join, go to: <http://signwriting.org/forums/swlist/>, or write an email message to: Sutton@SignWriting.org.

Deaf Classrooms Join the SignWriting Literacy Project

Classrooms with young Deaf students in Albuquerque, New Mexico received donated SignWriting materials in 1999, to "experiment" - to see if they "found SignWriting useful". Today, these same teachers continue to use SignWriting daily with their students, and more classrooms have chosen to join the SignWriting Literacy Project. SignWriting is providing a bridge to the world of literature for hundreds of deaf children. Don't let your students be left behind. If your classroom uses a Sign Language, and if your deaf students have access to a computer with a CD drive, then donations of books, cds and dvds are available. Want to join the SW Literacy Project? Visit the web: www.SignWriting.org/forums/teachers or telephone 858-456-0098.
