Authors' Bios

Prof. Mohamed Jemni

Mr. Mohamed Jemni is a Full Professor at the University of Tunis and the founder of the Research Laboratory of Technologies of Information and Communication & Electrical Engineering (LaTICE). He is also an Adjunct Professor at the Faculty of Science and Technology, Athabasca University, Canada. His research projects involvements are in Enhanced Learning Technologies, High Performance & Grid computing and Accessibility of Information and Communication Technologies to people with disabilities.

Prof. Mohamed Jemni published more than 200 papers in international journals and conferences and produced many studies about ICT, E-accessibility, E-learning and Entrepreneurship Education for international organizations such as UNESCO, ITU and ALECSO.

Yosra Bouzid

Yosra Bouzid is a PhD student working under the supervision of Prof. Mohamed Jemni, and a member of the Research Laboratory LaTICE. She obtained her Master's degree in computer science from the Higher School of Sciences and Techniques of Tunis in 2011. Her research interests lie in the areas of Virtual Reality, Computer Graphics and Sign Language Processing.